

See How Cheaply You Can Buy Here

There are two kinds of bargains—some are bargains when you look at them on store counters, piled up in deceptive display, flanked with "catchy" price cards. THEY ARE catchy; so is fly paper. Then there are bargains that are bargains after you take them home and examine them in clear light and quietness. They continue to be bargains after you use them day in and day out. They stand the service test, and you think kindly of the store that made this sort of bargain possible.

This is the only kind of bargain that we care to offer. For instance, we are offering now some exceptionally attractive inducements in

RALEIGH

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., January 17.—Miss Edmundson, of Houston, Tex., was the honor guest on Saturday afternoon for a charming luncheon at the Raleigh Country Club given by Mrs. J. P. Ferrall.

Mrs. W. R. Crawford was hostess on Tuesday afternoon for the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

The assembly hall of the Raleigh Woman's Club was the scene of a large company of club women Wednesday afternoon to hear Mrs. C. C. Hooks, of Charlotte, speak on school hygiene. There was an informal reception in honor of Mrs. Hooks after the address.

The keenest interest was stirred here by the past week by the announcement of the engagement of Gordon Smith, a prominent young banker and clubman of this city, to Miss Edith Lanier Clark, of Wilmington, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Haywood Clark. The bride was a student in St. Mary's School, and has often visited here, being especially admired in social circles. The marriage will take place in the spring.

INTRODUCTORY SALE
Nemo Duplex
SELF-REDUCING CORSETS

THE illustrations tell what these new corsets do for you.

Improved Self-Reducing front, with steels curved at lower ends, gives fine abdominal support.

Long flexible skirt reduces the hips and upper limbs.

The new "duplex" device consists of deep extensions of semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing. Being detached from the corset at inner ends (Figure 1), the extensions can be laced more closely at bottom, producing an extreme style effect (Fig. 2).

You have correct style and increased comfort—seated, standing, walking, and the elastics STAY elastic.

No. 327—with low bust $3.00
No. 328—medium bust $3.00

These corsets represent the extreme limit of value-giving. Ask your dealer.

WEST POINT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
West Point, Va., January 17.—This morning at 7 o'clock, Mrs. J. L. Mulford became the bride of Dr. Alvah S. Hudson, the ceremony being solemnized by Rev. Hugh S. Sibley, of Richmond, a former rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, West Point, and Mrs. Hudson left immediately for Richmond en route to Norfolk, then to New York, and on to Bermuda for their honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Hudson's maiden name was Miss Fannie Holden Cavan, daughter of the late J. R. Cavan, who was a valued citizen of West Point for many years.

Dr. Hudson has spent most of his life in West Point, and was educated in the local schools, taking many of his local honors as a student. He graduated several years ago from the Medical College of Virginia, and during the summer in West Point, established a flourishing practice in the traveling suit and blue broadcloth, wearing a mink hat. Invitations were only sent out to town friends.

Among the recent entertainments in a jolly home party spending several days in the home of Beauregard Turner, near Sweet Hall, at his home, Tucker, and then spending several days in the home of Allen home in King and Queen County. Informal parties were given each evening which buffet suppers were served. The yells and songs of six Richmond College boys added a great deal to the enjoyment of the party.

In the Turner home the hostess was the daughter of the house, Miss Margaret Watlington Turner, assisted by her mother, and the Allen home, Miss Virginia Dare Allen, assisted by her mother. Those present were Misses Mary Brown, West Point; O. Oswald Watt, of Essex; Bernard Allen, of King and Queen; William H. Barlow, of Fairfax; Isaac Diggs, Jr., of Richmond; John Morris and W. S. Morris, of Salisbury, Md.; William Hugh Bagby, of Stevensville; Oliver Bagby, of Brazil; W. D. Courtney, of King and Queen.

Miss Virginia Farinholt entertained a few of her friends in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. B. L. Farinholt, recently. Progressive games and snow pictures were features of the evening. Miss Josephine Freeman won the prize at guessing the original of the pictures.

Mrs. H. W. Boughman's senior music class gave a recital in her home on E Street. A most pleasing program was rendered by the following pupils: Misses Mary Hudson, Lucille Bland, Irene McGeorge, Virginia Allen, Alice Chalkley, Mary Brown, Lucille Cooke and Emily Gault. At the close of the program the whole class joined in a "musical contest." Misses Irene McGeorge and Ellen Gray, having scored the highest number of points in the contest, were presented with handsome musical instruments.

The Card Club this week was entertained by Mrs. Andrew Brooks in a very charming manner.

Mrs. Philip Gibson, of Richmond, who has been spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Gary, in town, returned today to Richmond.

Mrs. Roland Allen, of King and Queen, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGeorge.

Miss Bessie Nunn has returned from a very pleasant visit to her friend, Mrs. E. T. Richards, near the courthouse.

The Woman's Club met Monday in the home of Mrs. Lane Cooke. Mrs. Cooke will tell of Mexico and its people, and Miss Edie Carden will discuss current topics.

SOUTH BOSTON

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
South Boston, Va., January 17.—An approaching wedding of interest is that of Miss Maude Mebane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander Mebane, of this place, to Arthur Neal Scott, of Mebane, N. C. The marriage will take place at Trinity Episcopal Church, Wednesday, January 21, at 5 o'clock in the evening.

J. C. Thompson, of Altavista, is the guest of his son, J. V. Thompson, on upper Main Street.

Mrs. Thomas Clarke was hostess at a pretty appointed Japanese tea at her home on Main Street, on Friday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 o'clock.

The Twentieth Century Book Club entertained Tuesday afternoon at an eight-course dinner at the Yarrowburgh Hotel. Complimentary to the five trustees of the Federation of Women's Clubs endowment fund. These are Miss Adelaide Fries, Winston-Salem; Mrs. D. Cooper, Henderson; Mrs. M. L. Stover, Wilmington; Mrs. W. B. Parham, Henderson; and Mrs. B. C. Cotton, of Brice.

Raleigh was especially well represented at the midwinter meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs at Chapel Hill this week by Miss Edith Royner, Miss Daisy Denison and Mrs. W. J. Martin Johnson.

Mrs. W. J. Martin Johnson, of Brice, Whist Club Wednesday afternoon. In addition to the club members there present as special guests Mrs. Charles E. Johnson and Mrs. L. B. Pegram.

WILMINGTON

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Wilmington, N. C., January 17.—The annual meeting of the State Council of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the city.

The North Carolina Sororals has already commenced to make preparations for a big floral fair to be held in the fall in connection with the highest recommendation of the State Council.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Edith Lanier Clark, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Haywood Clark, of this city, and Gordon Smith, a prominent young man of Raleigh.

Invitations are out for the marriage of William H. Robertson, formerly of Wilmington, but now of Sumter, S. C., to Edward Tennant Taylor, of this city, on Wednesday, January 28, in Sumter.

The Young Men's Christian Association now has a membership of 372, and 345 men are enrolled in Bible study classes, the largest in the history of the college association.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the Medical College of Virginia, will visit for the third week's course of special instruction at a mass-meeting of the students, faculty and townspeople in German Club Hall.

Monday, January 19, will be a holiday at the college in honor of Lee's birthday.

President Eggleston, Dr. S. W. Fletcher, Dean H. L. Price and several members of the faculty of the agricultural college will leave Monday for Richmond to attend the meetings of the State Horticultural Society and the Virginia Farmers' Institute.

Forty of the sixty county demonstrators in the State are now here for the two weeks' course of special instruction, and among them are half a dozen graduates of the V. P. I. who were appointed to these positions after taking their degrees in agriculture.

D. O. Mathews, superintendent of boy to be dropped from college, and for the time being the view that there is only one side to the boy's argument would look at the matter as the one here quoted does, the effects would be most beneficial. The father writes in part:

"I am very glad that you found it impossible to remove the report, as it may teach him to be more careful. My own theory is that there is no excuse for a boy making such a mistake; he should know when his remarks are taken the trouble to inform himself. The difference between a reliable man and one who is always explaining. The sooner a boy learns the necessity of taking his tasks seriously, the easier it will be to form the habit of feeling responsibility."

Dr. H. H. Hunt has been appointed associate professor of animal husbandry at the V. P. I., succeeding L. P. Sumner, resigned, and has entered on his duties. Professor Hunt is a native Kansan, took his degree at the agricultural college of that State, spent several years on his father's stock farm in practical work, taught in the short courses at the Pennsylvania State College, and has been for two years in the faculty of West Virginia University, giving half his time to teaching and half to extension work, and comes to the college with a reputation for ability and experience. Professor and Mrs. Hunt will occupy the house on the campus recently vacated by Dr. O. Mathews, superintendent of buildings and grounds.
